Subject: Invitation to Nominate High-Level Speakers | I AMEXME Global Digital Forum 2026

Dear MARIE-CHRISTINE OGHLY
WORLD PRESIDENT OF FCEM

Warm greetings.

On behalf of the Mexican Association of Women Entrepreneurs (AMEXME Nacional, A.C.), I am pleased to share with you a strategic international initiative that we will be launching in 2026.

As part of the strengthening of our National Directorate of International Business, and aligned with our vision of positioning AMEXME as a structured platform for internationalization between Mexico and the global ecosystem, we have designed the I AMEXME Global Digital Forum | International Summit on Business Innovation, under the 2026 theme: Technology, Global Trade and Women's Leadership.

The forum will take place on Wednesday, June 10, 2026, in a six-hour virtual format (10:00–16:00 hrs, UTC-6 / Mexico City Time), bringing together entrepreneurs, experts, and thought leaders from Europe, Latin America, the United States, and Mexico.

The event will be conducted in Spanish, with speakers delivering their presentations in Spanish, as this inaugural edition focuses on the Spanish-speaking business ecosystem, reflecting AMEXME's origin as a Mexican business organization.

This initiative aims to provide practical, strategic, and accessible knowledge, positioning technology and global trends as real tools for business competitiveness among women entrepreneurs. We particularly value the global reach of FCEM and its leadership in connecting women entrepreneurs worldwide, and we believe your participation is key to strengthening this international dialogue.

In this context, we kindly invite FCEM to support us by nominating high-level women leaders from your international network to participate as speakers.

We are particularly interested in profiles with proven experience in the following areas, with the ability to deliver their presentations in Spanish: innovation and digital transformation; artificial intelligence applied to business; data governance and digital strategy; international trade and cross-border e-commerce; cybersecurity for businesses; and women's leadership in technology-driven and global environments.

We are specifically seeking speakers who can provide innovative, up-to-date content with strong business application, share experience grounded in real implementation rather than purely theoretical perspectives, and offer insights that are not easily accessible through open sources or social media. We are looking for profiles that combine entrepreneurial trajectory with deep specialization, and whose contributions reflect sound judgment, accumulated expertise, and strategic vision.

At the same time, it is important that the content be delivered in a practical, accessible, and strategic manner, oriented toward business decision-making, avoiding excessively technical approaches that may limit its applicability for entrepreneurs.

To facilitate the curation and selection process, we kindly ask that each nomination includes the following information: full name, current position and organization, country of residence, contact email, a short professional bio (100–150 words, business-oriented), a high-resolution professional photograph, proposed topic, a brief description of the talk with a practical and applied approach, a clear value proposition for entrepreneurs indicating the insights, tools, or decision-making impact, and relevant experience in the topic such as projects, implementation, or leadership experience.

All submissions will undergo a curation process based on their level of specialization, relevance, and strategic value. Selected speakers will be contacted via email no later than May 20, 2026. Due to the expected volume of submissions, only selected profiles will be contacted. If no confirmation is received by the indicated date, it will be understood that the proposal was not selected for this edition. We sincerely appreciate your interest and collaboration in this international initiative.

We would be grateful if you could share your nominations or indicate the appropriate contact within your organization to follow up on this invitation. Please feel free to reach out should you require any additional information.

Warm regards,

Mtra. Sandra Maldonado Flores
